

Dungeons of Infinity (February 2017!)

Hello and welcome to the February 2017 update of Dungeons of Infinity. The reviews are starting to come in and so far they are very positive. Here is a quote from David Lockwood of Obsidian Games.

“But I would rate Dungeons of Infinity a 9.5 honestly. And yes ... I enjoy your game more than Gloomhaven.”

For any who don't know, Gloomhaven was rated the most anticipated game of 2017 on Board Game Geek.

So it looks like all the hard work has paid off! I know everyone will not love Dungeons of Infinity, but for a professional game designer to rate this game so highly is beyond encouraging!

Very short Newsletter this month as my wife and I have been very busy moving to a new home in a different state.

Here are links to the first two reviews for Dungeons of Infinity.

In the very near future Dungeons of Infinity will be featured on Man vs. Meeples. I can't wait and I'll post the interview in the Newsletter.

It's getting closer!

Keep searching!
